BY OCEAN'S WAVE

THOUSANDS OF LIVES ARE LOST

Galveston Swept Away and Five Thousand People Find a Watery Grave—Dallas Almost Meets a Similar Fate—The West Indian Storm Has Deaths Innumerble to Its Credit. Galveston Under Eight Feet of Water and the Island City a Total Wreck—$10,000,000 of Property Ruined—The Story of the Storm's Fearful Sunday Work.

New York. Sept. 10.—A special to the New York World from Austin, says that five thousand lives are now thought to have been lost in the West India hurricane. The property damaged at Galveston is placed at about $10,000,000. The destruction to the rice and cotton crops amounts to five millions.

Gov. Sayers admits his estimate telegraphed at midnight, as three thousand dead at Galveston, may tell only half the terrible story.

At midnight twelve hundred bodies were washed ashore at Virginia Point. Steamers laden wtth water and physicians left Houston at daybreak for Galveston.

OVER EIGHT FEET UNDER WATER.

Houston, Sept. 10.—Additional particulars of the storm at Galveston show about fifteen hundred drowned and $10,000,000 worth of property lost. Not a bullding in the city escaped damage. All the bath houses on the beach were destroyed and the attendants drowned. The Seeley hospital was destroyed and most of the patients drowned. Eight big steamships in the port were lost. The entire island is submerged, the water being eight feet deep on Tremont avenue, which is probably the highest point in the city.

DALLAS IN RUINS AND A THOUSAND KILLED.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 10.—From six hundred to a thousand people in Dallas are killed and the city is almost in ruins. The wharf front has gone over and an ocean steamer is stranded. Death and destruction are on every hand, with a money loss that cannot now be estimated—all as a result of the hurricane.

NUMBER OF DEAD WILL NEVER BE KNOWN.

Reports from Galveston say the estimates vary between the figures named, but an accurate account is impossible. The real number killed by the storm will never be known. From Tremont to P street and thence to Beach not the vestige of a residence is left,

LAST NIGHT'S REPORT.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 9. 10 p. m.—The West Indian storm which reached the Gulf coast yesterday morning, wrought awful havoc in Texas. Reports are conflicting, but it is known that an appalling disaster has befallen the city of Galveston, where it is reported a thousand or more lives have been blotted out and a tremendous property damage occurred. Meagre reports from Sabine Pass and Port Arthur also indicate a heavy loss of life, but these reports cannot be confirmed at this hour. The first news to reach this city from the stricken city of Galveston was received tonight. James C. Timmons, who resides in Houston, and who is the general superintendent of the National Compress Company, arrived in the city at 8 o'clock from Galveston. He was one of the first to reach here with tidings of the great disaster which has befallen that city, and the magnitude of that disaster remains to be told, because of his endeavors to reach home. After remaining through the hurricane on Saturday, he departed on a schooner and came across the bay to Mogan's Point, where he caught a train for Houston. The huuricane, Mr. Timmons said, was the worst ever known. The estimates made by citizens, of Galveston was that 4,000 houses, most of them residences, have been destroyed and that at least 1,000 people have been drowned killed, or missing. Some business houses were also destroyed, but most of them stood, though badly damaged.

THE CITY A COMPLETE WRECK.

The city, Mr. Timmons avers, is a complete wreck, so far as he could see from the water front and from the Tremont Hotel. Water was blown over the island by the hurricane, the wind blowing at the rate of 80 miles an hour straight from the Gulf and forcing the sea water before it in big waves. The gale was a steady one, the heart of it striking the city about 5 o'clock yesterday evening, and continuing without intermission until midnight last night, when it abated somewhat, although it continued to blow all night.

FALL OF RITTER'S SALOON.

Of his knowledge, Mr. Timmons knew of only one house succumbing with fatal results, though he heard of many residences being carried away with inmates. The house that he saw destroyed was Ritter's saloon and restaurant, at 2,109 Strand street, a principal business street of the city, this three story building was blown down and nine men, prominent citizens were killed. Among the dead are: Charles Kelner, Sr., a cotton buyer for an English firm; Stanley C. Spencer, general manager of the Elder Dempster Steamship, and Richard Lord, manager of McFadden's Cotton Company, whose body is still in the ruins. Secretary Bailey, of the Wharf Company, and several waiters and customers saved themselves by jumping from the upper story just before the crash came.

ORPHAN ASYLUM AND BOTH HOSPITALS PROBABLY GONE.

It is reported that the Orphan Asylum and both hospitals were destroyed and if this proves true the loss of life will be great, as these institutions were generally crowded and as they were substantial buildings, the chances are that many had taken refuge in them.

THE CITY SUBMERGED—NO LIGHT, NO WATER TO DRINK.

The city of Galveston, he said, is now entirely submerged and cut off from communication. The boats are gone, the railroads cannot be operated and the water is so high people cannot walk out by the way of the bridge across the bay, even should that bridge be standing. Provisions will be badly needed as a great majority of the people lost all they had. The water works power house was wrecked and a water famine is threatened, as the cisterns were all ruined by the overflow of salt water. This, Mr. Timmons regards as the most serious problem to be faced now. The city is in darkness, the electric plant having been ruined. There is no way of estimating the property damage at present. So far as he could see or hear, Mr. Timmons says the east end portion of the city, which is the resident district, has been practically wiped out of existence. On the west end, which faces the Gulf on another portion of the island, much havoc was done. The beach has been swept clean, the bath houses are destroyed and many of the residences are total wrecks. The water extended across the island. Mr. Timmons said it was three feet deep in the rotunda of the Tremout Hotel and was nearly six feet deep in Market street.

SHIPS SUNK OR TURNED BOTTOM UP.

Along the water front the damage was very great. The roof had been

WANT THEIR CRUTCHES BACK.

The Divine Healer's Patients in Charlotte Again Racked With Pain.

The divine healer who is holding forth nightly on the corner of South Elm and West Washington streets can make a good disposition of a part of the large stock of discarded crutches he claims to have in his possession if he will return to Charlotte. It seems that "the misery up the back" is again felt by some of his patients in that city, as witness the following from the Observer:

"The Greensboro Telegram devotes about a column of space to the divine healer, Dr. Gilbert, who is spreading himself among the inhabitants of the City of Elms. This is all right. The doctor is at liberty to lay on hands if he wants to lay on hands, but a few residents among the Charlotte colored population would thank him to return their crutches.

"It was a habit of this healer chap to take a lame patient and claw him about the head and neck till his eyes rolled whitishly in faith and fear. Then the doctor seized the crutches of his patient and carried them to his hotel. 'Twas impressive. The patient watched the spectacle, and, for a bit, felt well.

"But, doctor, dear, that misery in the back—it has returned. That game leg is once more game. The ankle that you touched so tenderly has exhausted the supply of faith. And new crutches cost money."

MR. FARRAR TO STUDY MEDICINE.

Will Fit Himself For a Specialist—His Business to Be Continued by Mr. Frasier.

For some time Mr. M. R. Farrar has desired to fit himself for the practice of medicine and surgery, and he has finally succeeded in so arranging his business as to be able to leave and pursue the necessary course of study. He will spend the next two years in the medical department of the University of North Carolina, after which he will complete the course at a New York institution. After this it is his intention to spend two years in Europe fitting himself for a specialist.

Mr. Farrar left this morning for Chapel Hill to begin his work. His business will be continued uninterrupted, under the management of Mr. W. G. Frasier, who has been associated with Mr. Farrar for the past few years.

Unneighborly Treatment.

While guarding his melon patch a few nights ago Caesar Coble, colored who resides in Reedy Fork, shot Riley Rankin, a colored neighbor, just as the latter was leaving the patch with two fine melons. Rankin was painfully, though not seriously, injured.

Caesar has a fine growth of melons and has been troubled a great deal by thieving neighbors. Considering the proverbial attitude of all negroes towards a watermelon patch, brother Coble treated his neighbor mighty shabby. He must have thought he was getting a white man.

Keep off the College Grounds.

TO THE PUBLIC.—As our students are now beginning to arrive, we respectfully request every one not to use any portion of the college grounds as a thoroughfare. The constant practice of passing to and fro is a great annoyance to us, and we earnestly hope that you will respect the rights of private property, and not render it necessary for us to adopt the method of personal request in order to carry out the wishes of students and faculty.

DRED PEACOCK.

Revival Meeting Closes.

The meeting in progress at the Methodist church at Jamestown for a week, closed last night. During the services 16 persons professed religion and the church was revived generally.

Notwithstanding his advanced age, the pastor, Rev. T. H. Pegram, preached three times yesterday and drove twenty miles through the country. Previous to this meeting he attended every service at the Muir's Chapel camp meeting.

Sent to the County Home.

Jack Evans, an old and infirm negro, was sent to the county home today. The old man's mind is impaired and he is unable to care for himself, and it seems that he has no relatives to take an interest in him.

A VITAL QUESTION.

CONDITION OF THE CITY WATER.

IT IS VILE, IMPURE AND STAGNANT.

The Publication in Saturday's Telegram the First Notification of the Condition of Affairs--People Visit the Pumping Station and Find That the Half Has Not Been Told--The Water Company and the Aldermen Do Not Escape Criticism--The Former Censured for Withholding Notice to the Public, and the Latter for Entering Into Negotiations for the Purchase of the Plant at a Price Beyond That Set by the Expert--A History of the Transaction.

Not for years have the people of Greensboro been so vitally interested in any question as at present in the condition and supply of the city water. They are brought face to face with a water famine, not taking into consideration the danger of sickness.

For some time, on account of the protracted drought, it has been known that the supply was becoming scarce, but no intimation was given that the water was impure or unfit for use. In fact, it was only a few weeks ago that an analysis showing the water to be absolutely pure was published. However, it is a fact, apparent to all familiar with the situation, that the water is not only impure, but actually dangerous for drinking or other domestic purposes. To use it in any way whatever is risky.

The first public intimation of the deplorable condition was an article in Saturday's Telegram setting forth, in as mild a manner as possible, that the water was filthy and entirely unfit for use. Accompanying this was a warning to the public by Mayor Taylor and a card from Dr. W. P. Beall. The publication of these set the people to talking, and during the day yesterday great crowds visited the pumping station to see for themselves the condition of affairs. They found the story of The Telegram and others confirmed, with the exception that the condition was a great deal worse than had been reported.

The small stream of water trickling down the race was covered by a slimy, green scum, giving it the appearance of a stagnant pool of water one has often seen in a low, marshy meadow; and the filthy sediment in the bottom of the race was mixing with the water and being pumped to consumers. On the surface and in the mud were hundreds of dead fish and mussels in a state of decomposition. The boiling sun that poured down upon these and the other accumulation of filth produced an unpleasant sensation on the visitor.

Those who went and saw for themselves needed no warning to cause them to desist from a further use of the water. A look and a smell were sufficient to turn any one against it.

The cutting off of the supply is causing the greatest inconvenience, especially to the hotels, boarding houses and manufacturing plants dependent upon the waterworks. The wells in town will furnish a sufficiency for drinking and domestic purposes, for a time at least.

If there was a doubt in the mind of any person as to the capacity of the system to furnish an adequate supply of water for a city the size of Greensboro, that doubt has been confirmed. Of course, since reaching anything like its present size, the city has never gone through such a protracted drought, but the experience plainly shows that the supply is not equal to the demand. It has been the overshadowing topic of conversation in Greensboro today, and the universal verdict is that the city has reached a grave crisis.

As a matter of course, the Greensboro Water Supply Company is being censured, nor does the Board of Aldermen escape criticism. The people argue that the Water Company should have served notice of the condition of affairs without waiting for the public to find it out. The Aldermen are blamed for entering into and prosecuting negotiations for the purchase of the plant at a price beyond that set by an expert brought here at great expense for the purpose of ascertaining its value. It is not generally believed that the Board of Aldermen will desire to close the deal in view of the present contingency, but in such an event it has been suggested that the transaction should be stopped by an injunction.

HISTORY OF THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The sudden and overwhelming interest aroused in the trade in progress between the Aldermen of the city of Greensboro and the Greensboro Water Supply Company, for the purpose of the former getting possession of the water plant of the latter, make the history of the negotiations, and the trade, as far as it had advanced, of great concern, and we hereby give it as obtained from the city records, so that a clear understanding of the matter may be had.

In order to carry out the wishes of the people for the city to own and operate a water plant of its own, so expressed in a bond issue for that purpose, the Board of Aldermen on July 28, 1899, instructed its water committee to confer with the Greensboro Water Supply Company in regard to the purchase of its plant, and to get an estimate of the cost of the plant, and to employ an engineer for that purpose.

Under this authority, the committee employed Samuel M. Gray, one of the best known experts in his line in the United States, to make this investigation. Without forestalling the end of a story, Mr. Gray was paid $800 for his expert services. Owing to his absence in Cuba, doing work for the United States government, the committee was not able to present his report till late in the spring of 1900. On April 13th, 1900, the committee reported that they had received Mr. Gray's report, but owing to the fact that their term of office would expire in a few days, they would make no recommendation, deeming that it should not be done till the new Board, about to be elected, should take hold.

The new board having taken office, on May 11, 1900, Alderman Joyner moved that the water committee consider the report of Engineer Gray, and when they had sufficiently digested it, to call a meeting of the Board.

The report of Mr. Gray estimated the present value of the water plant at $74,833 60, and on June 8, 1900, the city attorney was instructed to offer the Water Company that exact figure for their plant, "provided the company will execute a good and sufficient bond to hold the city harmless against all suits now brought, or which may hereafter be brought, on account of negligence of said company, the answer of said company to be in by next Friday."

On June 15th, a letter was received from Mr. R. R. King, in behalf of the Water Company, refusing the city's offer, but making no counter offer. On the same day, Alderman Sergeant offered the following resolution, which was odopted:

"Resolved, That the Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro, being advised by S. M. Gray, admittedly a civil engineer of the highest reputation and standing in his profession, that the city, in justice to its taxpayers, cannot afford to pay more than $74,833.60 for the present waterworks plant and system, and having offered said price for said system, which said offer has been refused by the Greensboro Water Supply Co., it is the sense of this Board that it is unwilling to pay more than said sum.

Resolved further, That the city proceed to make arrangements to put in a new plant, and that the waterworks committee be instructed to advertise at once for bids for a new plant, and that the mayor be instructed to proceed to negotiate the sale of bonds sufficient to put in said plant."

On July 13, 1900, the Board authorized certain items of expense incurred by J. S. Hunter, chairman of the water committee, in taking options on land on South Buffalo, to be used by the city for a water supply, to be allowed.

On Aug. 6, the water committee made a report of the progress of the work being done by them.

On August 10th, the water works committee made the following report:

To the Mayor and Board of Aldermen:

On the afternoon of August 8th, 1900, the Water Works Committee made a visit to South Buffalo and carefully inspected all the property on which

THE CITY THAT IS A WRECK.

DR. KEERANS DESCRIBES GALVESTON

Situated Off the Mainland on an Island Thirty Miles by One and a Quarter Wide, and is Only 18 Inches Above the Sea Level—Buildings Put Up Especially to Withstand Storms Went Away Yesterday.

Charlotte Observer, Sept. 10th.

Dr. Leswie E. C. Keerans, of Charlotte, who spent the last summer in Galveston, and is therefore greatly interested in the fate of the city, while inquiring for news of the disaster at The Observer office, made the following statements relative to that city this morning to an Observer reporter:

"Galveston has a population of 52,000 and is the largest export town in the United States. It is considered the wealthiest city in America for its size. The city is located on the extreme eastern portion of Galveston Island, and almost all the business part of the place is located in the northern part of the town, at Bay Shore. The Strand, Galveston's noted main street, is located only two blocks from the sea. The residentical part of the city is on the Gulf side, south of the city.

"As the town is only 18 inches above the sea level, the storm must have done incalculable damage. I suppose the damage to the town was caused by a tidal wave. The only previous time in the history of the city that it was flooded was in 1885, when the wind was from the southwest for a few hours and then suddenly changed to the north, which forced the water from the Gulf up through the jetties into Galveston Bay and then across the town. The greatest damage done then was the uplifting of the ground floors and the washing away of a few small houses. No lives were lost.

"To say that Galveston is flooded means that the entire island of Galveston, which is 30 miles long and a mile and a quarter in width, is entirely under water. The island is practically level, the highest part of it being only two or three feet high.

"The bridges referred to as being damaged or swept away are about eight feet above the water level, and the road bridge is about 12 feet above the water level. The road bridge, by the way, is two miles and a half long, the longest road bridge in the United States. None of these bridges are more than ten years old, and they were supposed to be absolutely secure. The bridges are side by side and are about six miles from Galveston. Before they were built all communication with Galveston was with ferry and fording, further down the island.

"I notice that the telegrams say that the relief party is not able to get closer to Galveston than within six miles of Virginia Point, which is 12 miles from Galveston. At present before the water subsides, the only source of communication with Galveston—since the bridges are down—is by ferrying accross the bay, then entering skiffs, by which the relief party could make its way up into the city. I imagine that Bolivar, which is three miles northeast of Galveston, across the bay, and Texas City, which is six miles in a northwesternly direction, from Galveston, are not in danger, as both are considerably higher above the sea level than Galveston.

"'The fact that the three elevators, mentioned in your dispatches tonight, were blown down shows that the storm must have been tremendous in violence. The elvators were very securely built on piles driven into made ground, and were supposed to be strong enough to withstand the force of any wind.

"I don't think that Houston can be in any great danger, as the only water touching the city is bayou, which is used for transporting cotton on barges for shipment, to be loaded at Galveston, and the banks of this bayou in Houston are from 10 to 20 feet above the water level. The distance from Houston to Galveston down the bayou is 55 miles"

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. No Fear of McKinley Carrying the State.

Durham Herald.

We do not believe that there is a newspaper in the State now trying to make the negro an issue that will admit that there is the least possible chance of McKinley carrying the State. Their excuse for raising the alarm cry of negro is that McKinley has appointed negro Federal office-holders in this State and if elected will do so again. This much is admitted. But it has probably never occurred to those papers that a Republican President elected four or twenty years hence could and probably would do the same thing. Following their line of argument the negro question in politics is with us to stay. So far as the negro in the present campaign is concerned, Bryan will carry the State whether they support McKinley or not, and if you do not believe these papers think so you just predict a different result and see what a howl it will raise.

"This certifies that the deceased did not die from any contagious disease. The deceased was hung by the sheriff of Rowan county for killing Policeman Kearns."

WATER IN THE CAPITAL CITY.

THERE IS NO SCARCITY THERE

Female University Buys More Property—State Fair to Be Open Nights—A New Republican Convention in First District—Insurance Commission Young Makes a Good Report.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—Greensboro is having trouble about the water supply Raleigh is fortunate. Walnut Creek, from which the supply is taken, runs steadily and no amount of drought appears to affect it. The reason is that it is a very short stream and practically its entire course is through the forest, for two or three miles in fact, through the primeval forest.

There is to be an execution this week, at Tarboro, and the victim of the gallows will be Chauncey Davis, a negro. It is not a common crime, or rather the death penalty is but infrequent for it. It is difficult to convict of arson. Davis' crime was the cause of a death, and a heroic death too—that of a young man who went back into the burning house and rescued a lady, but was so badly burned that he soon died.

The Baptist Female University here has bought additional property, and its occupancy of the entire block on which it stands is only a question of a little time. One of the Sunday sights here is the "church parade" of the students of various college and today there were 150 in the "parade" of the Baptist Female University girls. President Dinwiddie, of Peace Institute, says his school opens Wednesday and that there will be 70 boarders; all he can accommodate. St. Mary's College doesn't open until later. It now has the support of four Episcopal dioceses. At St. Mary's a house for Rector Bratton is under construction, to cost $2,500.

In the Episcopal churches here today prayers were offered for the recovery of Bishop Horner of the Diocese of Asheville, who is dangerously ill with appendicitis.

The State charters the Garrett Distilling Company, of Medoc, Halifax county, capital $100,000. This is the well known wine-making company.

Sunday concerts by the professional orchestra here began yesterday afternoon at Pullen Park. It was desired to give them in the capitol square, but permission was refused.

The State fair, in October, will be open three nights. Arrangements were made yesterday for the electric lighting. On Monday night there will be the finest display of fire works ever made in the State.

All the good seats in both the Senate and House have been secured by legislators. A lot of them were chosen August 2. It was a case of the "early bird."

Dr. D. H Abutt calls a new convention in the First district to nominate a Republican candidate for Congress, so as to leave Isaac Meekins out in the cold. It is surely a lot of trouble, or rather, "much ado about nothing," as no one save a Democrat has the ghost of a chance.

The New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company has obtained license to do business in this State.

The collections from fire insurance companies during August aggregated $19,000 and this sum was turned over to the treasurer by Commissioner J. R. Young.

The negroes a few miles south of here, where Tom Jones murdered almost an entire family, are almost a unit in the belief that Jones' ghost walks nightly. It is no joke with these superstitous folks and they are mightily troubled. In the bright moonlight the ghost walks his ways along the public roads, and a lot of negroes swear they have seen him. His days Jones spends in an undertaker's place. The night is his moving time.

Opening at Whitsett.

Whitsett Institute, says a correspondent, has the best opening in its history. More than one hundred students are registered from twenty-five counties, and students are still arriving by every train. The most of the old students will return this year, but few of them have done so yet, hence the enrollment is expected to exceed that of last year—two hundred and thirty-four.

Patient—Then you think it's all up with me, doctor?

Doctor—I'm afraid so.

"Well, we must all die once, and I may as well go now as afterward. You're sure I'm going?"

"Yes."

"Then let me have your bill."

"My bill! My dear sir, this is very unusual. You should give your thoughts to most serious matters."

"My motto has always been 'pay as you go,' and now that I am going I want to pay."

So he paid and went.

Both Extremes.

Editor In Chief—I understand young Bluegore, the millionaire's son, has gone in for journalism.

City Editor—Yes. He's on my staff.

Editor In Chief—And what do you think of him?

THE ACME OF PERFECTION

IN BOYS' CLOTHING IS THE

"Grindstone Brand"

Which is superior to any other make on the market. The pants are made with double seats and knees: that is, the material from which they are made is doubled in the seat and knees. The manufacturers of the "Grindstone Brand" do not put in lining and call them double seat and knee pants, as manufacturers of some other pants do. The coat is neat and nobby--double-breasted and square cut. These suits are wear resisting and just the thing for strong, growing manly boys. They will wear longer, look better and give better service in every respect than any other line of boys' clothing made.

We have these suits in all colors for boys from 4 to 17 years of age. Bring or send your boy to us and have him fitted up for the fall and winter. Each suit has a "Grindstone" button in the lapel of the coat and a good knife in the pocket. These are not sold, but given as a present to the boys.

We handle these goods exclusively in Greensboro, and guarantee every suit sold. Remember this.

WILL CONTINUE TO DO BUSINESS.

Copying what we said about the uselessness of saying that there was danger of this republic being coverted into an "empire," The Salisbury Truth-Index relieves itself thus:

Go softly, brother, you know well that usurpation is never perpetrated in a day. How was it with Rome? Has not McKinley gone beyond constitutional limits? "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." The acts of McKinley that have aroused such men as ex-Governor Boutwell, Senator Wellington, lifelong Republicans, and tens of thousands of others is not a ghost story.

Now, esteemed, you had better put a slight check on your own bridle rein, before you drive over the banks of common sense into the slough of absurdity. We expressly stated that freedom and democracy were so well bred into the very bones of the American people that no man could be a dictator here. Those who see the hideous form of empire rising here totally ignore the difference in a people who, like the French, are monarchists by heredity and in practice, and Americans who are republicans by every natural and acquired instinct. And when the Truth-Index compares this country to Rome as proof that we are in danger of entering upon empire, it shows itself totally ignorant of the primary principle of historical interpretation, namely, consideration of national characteristics, both natural and acquired, and likewise ignores the progress made towards civil liberty in a thousand years. As to the overstepping of the constitution, we have heard that charged by one party against the other ever since the constitution was adopted, and the denunciations of the violations of the constitution today are not half so violent as they were fifty years ago.

No, no, brother, we are optimistic enough to hope that God will continue to rule and the republic to live, no matter who is elected this time.

BY OCEAN'S WAVE.

blown from all the elevators and the sheds along the wharves were either wrecked or had lost their sides and were of no protection to the contents. Most of the small sailing craft were wrecked and were either piled up on the wharves or floating bottom side up in the bay. There is a small steamship ashore three miles north of Pelican Island, but Mr. Timmons could not distinguish her name. She was flying a British flag. Another big vessel has been driven ashore at Virginia Point and still another is aground at Texas City. At the south point of Houston Island, an unknown ship lies in a helpless condition. The light ship that marks Galveston Bar is hard and fast aground at Bolivar Point. Mr. Timmons and the men with him on the schooner rescued two sailors from the middle bay who had been many hours in the water. These men were foreigners and he could not gain any information from them. A wreck of a vessel which looked like a barge was observed just before the party landed. In the bay the carcases of nearly two hundred horses and mules were seen, but no human body was visible.

SCENES IN THE TREMONT.

The scenes during the storm, Mr. Timmons said, could not be described. Women and children were crowded into the Tremont Hotel, where he was seeking shelter, and all night these unfortunates were bemoaning their losses of kindred and fortune. They were grouped about the stairways and in the galleries and rooms of the hotel. What was occurring in the other parts of the city he could only conjecture.

TWO HUNDRED CORPSES COUNTED.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 9.—The relief train has just returned. The party got no closer than six miles of Virginia Point, where the place was covered with lumber, debris, pianos, trunks and dead bodies. Two hundred corpses were counted from the train.

A large steamer is stranded two miles this side of Virginia Point, as though thrown up by a tidal wave.

Nothing can be seen of Galveston. Two men were picked up who floated across to the mainland. They say they estimate the loss of life up to the time they left at 2,000.

Nearly every church in the city was damaged. The First Baptist, Southern Methodist and Trinity Methodist, the latter a negro church, will have to be rebuilt before they can be used again. Many business houses were unroofed. The residence portion of the town presents a dilapidated appearance, but the damage in this part of the city has not been so great as in some others. The streets are almost impassable because of the litter of shade trees, telephone poles and wires and fences. Much damage was done to window glass and furniture. Many narrow escapes are recorded.

Another train has left here for Galveston, making the third today. The two preceding ones have not been heard from as all wires are prostrated.

A VITAL QUESTION.

the city has secured options. By invitation, two other members of the Board of Aldermen, to wit: Messrs. R M. Phillips and S. H. Boyd, were present and acted with your committee. It was the opinion of all present that the Board of Aldermen ought to purchase this property at once.

Your committee, therefore, beg leave to recommend that the Weatherly property on which we have heretofore secured options for the purpose of the erection of a city water works plant, be purchased, or if upon investigation it shall appear more desirable, that the entire Weatherly tract of land be purchased without delay.

They recommend further that plans and specifications for the proposed plant be secured and that the committee be instructed to advertise at once for bids for the erection of said plant in accordance with said specifications.

They further recommend that the committee be empowered to secure as early as possible the right of way over such land as may be necessary in laying their mains to the corporate limits and that the committee be further instructed to advertise immediately for bids for the laying of these mains and for such other work as may be necessary in the erection of a complete system of city water works.

Alderman Denny moved that the consideration of the report be postponed until an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening, August 11th, 1900. Carried.

On the following day, August 11th, 1900, the report of the Water Works Committee came up for action. Alderman Denny moved that action on the report be deferred until later in the evening. Carried. The following communication was received from the Greensboro Water Supply Company:

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 11, 1900.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro, Gentlemen:

Without going into details relative to what has taken place in the past in regard to a sale of the Greensboro Water Works to the city, I desire to say that after a free consideration of the matter, the company has substantially agreed to take $87,500 for its plant, cash, and to enter into such arrangement as will fully protect and indemnify the city on account of the pending suits, and to retire and deliver to the city all outstanding bonds, and any other obligations which may operate as a lien against the property. The company feels that in doing this, the price is very much less than the the true value of the property, but it feels that two companies cannot exist in this city and that sooner or later we shall have to get together. Then, the question is, shall it be after years of possible litigation and annoyance and after each side shall have expended considerable money which can never be recovered, or shall it be now on a business basis? That while we are making consessions we feel that you, as business men, should be willing to make some in the interest of all parties concerned. We have thoroughly canvassed this whole matter and feel that we appreciate the difficulties which confront both parties. As heretofore proposed, we again renew our proposition to arbitrate the matter. Feeling that the company has done all that it can do, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,
GREENSBORO WATER SUPPLY CO.
By R. R. King, Treasurer.

Here came the action for which the Board is being criticised. Having conducted all the water works business through the Water Committee, and having had that committee, in its old or new form, at work a year on the matter, they ignored its report, along with the recommendation of the expert, took the matter out of their hands, and provisionally accepted the proposition of the company to take $87,500 for the plant, having previously passed a resolution saying that it was the sense of the Board that no more than the expert's figures could be paid.

Having disposed of the consideration of the Water Committee's report, and heard the offer of the water company, Alderman Joyner moved that it is the sense of the Board that the price of $87,500 for the water works plant is satisfactory, provided a contract satisfactory in all details to the City Attorney and the Water Works Committee, can be agreed upon and accepted by the Board of Aldermen.

Upon this motion the roll was called with the following result: Ayes—Denny, Elam, Ellington, Joyner, Merrimon, Scott and Sherwood. Nays—Boyd, Hunter, Sergeant.

Alderman Merrimon moved that the Water Works Committee be requested, with the advice of the City Attorney and Mayor and other legal counsel, should they deem it necessary, prepare a contract for the purchase of the Greensboro waterworks plant at the price above named, as they are willing to recommend for adoption by the Board of Aldermen and report the same to said Board for their acceptance, amendment or rejection, at an adjourned meeting of the Board next Friday night. Carried.

Thus the matter stands. The Board has not purchased the plant, but has said that they would pay $87,500 for it provided the water company would do certain things. Here the matter waits for further action.

A Misleading Motto.

"I was down in Charleston, W. Va., recently," said a business man, "looking after a contract, and I noticed a funny thing.

"You know," he went on, "that the motto on the great seal of West Virginia is a Latin lingo something like 'Montana ñil non est exto,' meanin 'Mountaineers are always free.' Well, sir, they slap that state seal all around their capital, and as I was going into the penitentiary I looked up and saw it over the door. There it was 'Mountaineers are always free.'

"It may be more cheering to the convicts to read that than the old slogan, 'Abandon hope all ye who enter here,' but it's a blasted lie on the face of it at that, for I saw plenty of mountain men wearing the stripes once I got inside."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

are making a terrific onslaught on prices of Shoes, Dry Goods, Clothing, Gent's Furnishings, Notions, etc. We make it a practice never to carry over fabrics from season to season. We must make room for our fall goods at once; hence from now on you will think that Uncle Sam's entire army has invaded this section, for it will be BANG, BANG, BANG, continually. No such thing as let up. We intend to make quick work of it. The war on high prices and big profits is a just one and our victorious BANNER OF LOW PRICES proudly waves over this territory. Not even the rainy season, cold or hot weather, has any tendency to impede the progress of the vast army of trading people that are constantly pouring into our store. We bring them down at either short or long range. Why it is the cry on every hand, going to the CHEAPEST STORE ON EARTH. It is no wonder. We do what we promise and promise only what we do. My! listen: Dimity 2½c; Lawns 2½c; Overalls 25c; Piques, Organdies and Lawns, at prices never before heard of; Good bleaching 5c; Barker Mills bleaching 6¼c; Best 5c sock on the market.

Everything Cheap!

WAHT JOHN WISE SAID TO THEODORE ROOSEVELT

AN OLD STORY AND ITS APPLICATION TO TEDDY.

Washington Post.

They were telling a story about the committee rooms yesterday setting forth what John Wise, of Virginia, said to Theodore Roosevelt.

"Roosevelt," said Wise, after they had mutually shaken hands and expressed themselves as delighted to meet—they had known each other a long time—"Roosevelt, in your crusading and speechmaking and the interviews you publish, you remind me mightily of a story.

"There was a man fell dead in Union Square one day and carted to the morgue. No one knew him. Although latter a party took a look at him and said that while by no means sure, he thought the decoased was a man named Jones from Troy.

"The officials wired the Jones family at Troy, informing the Joneses that they had the dead body of the head of the family, and asking what was to be done. The Jones family wired back:

"'Embalm father and put him in a rosewood casket. We will be down in New York tomorrow.'

"Next day two of Jones' son showed up at the undertaker's who had been called by the New York officials to take charge of the corpse and carry out the wired directions of the Jones family. The undertaker was all smiles and subdued urbanity, and received the two sons pleasantly, as he might, and still be professionally mournful. The sons shook hands with the man of caskets, weeping silently the while.

"'Would you like to look at the body before I box it up to go back to Troy?" asked the undertaker

"Yes the Jones sons thought they would. As the undertaker removed the bandages from the face of the departed, so as to permit the grief-bitten children a view, the lower jaw dropped gruesomely and disclosed a set of false teeth. At this the younger son started convulsively and, pointing at the teeth, said:

"'Brother, look here. That's not father at all; it's somebody else. Father never had false teeth.'

"'It certainly is not father,' said elder of the two, 'and, of course, if it isn't father, father must be alive and well. This is a joyful hour, brother; let us repair to a saloon and become exceeding drunk in its honor.'

"'But, hold on,' shouted the undertaker, as the two Joneses, no longer bereaved, were about starting away to act on the bibulous suggestion of the elder; 'hold on, who's going to pay me for all this good embalming fluid, and this excellent rosewood casket?'

"'Surely not we,' responded the Joneses. 'We wired you to embalm father and confer on him a coffin. But this is not father. We owe you nothing. Whatever you have done for the poor stranger who lies here you must look to him to square. The Jones household will not meet any bills of his contracting.'

"Then the two Joneses went away, and were at once presently embarked on a spree.

"After they had left the undertaker turned to the deceased and addressed him. 'And it is here,' said Wise to Roosevelt, 'where you come in.'

"'Now see what you've done,' said the undertaker indignantly, as he shook a forefinger at the silent clay before him. 'Now see what you've up and done. As the game stood you were about to have a swell funeral, with a grave in a high-priced lot. You were to have a rosewood envelope as your last envelope, and your last resting place would have been adorned with a monument that would have been out of sight. And you up and spoil it all. Now you're going to get a pine box instead of rosewood and be carted away to a grave in the potter's field, there to sleep unwept, unhonored and unsung. And why, I ask? What has worked this serious and dismal change in your fortunes? It's simply because you couldn't keep your d——d mouth shut.'

"And," concluded Wise, as he laid a sympathetic hand on the young reformer's shoulder, "as I look at you, Roosevelt, and think how, one short year ago, you were the pet of party, you who are today an orphan of politics, a fashion of political foundling whom everybody is trying to leave on everybody else's doorstep, and remember how your fortunes were changed, I cannot but think of that individual who dropped dead in Union square. You, like the corpse, might have been buried proudly in the cemetery of the Republican party. Now you, like he, will find a grave in some potter's field of politics, and all because you, like he, couldn't keep your mouth shut."

MORE FACTS ABOUT GALVESTON.

The Location of the City a Dangerous One at Best—The Fact That the Town Cannot be Seen From Virginia Point Regarded as Ominous in the Extreme.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—D. B. Clarkson, of Galveston, whose family is probably swept away, was an anxious inquirer at the Associated Press headquarters here tonight. Speaking of the sunken city, its location, population, business interests and former floods that have swept over the city, he said:

"Galveston is situated on an island extending east and west for 27 miles, and is 7 miles in its greatest width north and south. No city could be in greater danger with such a horrible visitation as has now come to Galveston. In no part of the city with its 68,000 population, is it more than six feet above the sea level. The flat condition, not only points to the desperate situation of the people at such a time as this, but their danger may be considered emphasized when it is known that exactly where the city is built the island is only one and a quarter miles wide.

"On the bay, or north side of the city, is the commercial section, with wharves stretching along for nearly two miles, lined with sheds and large storage houses. Then, in that portion of Galveston there are three elevators, one of 1,500,000 bushels capacity, one of 1,000,000 and the third one of 750,000.

"The island from the north side is connected with the mainland by railroad bridges and the longest wagon bridge in the world, the latter nearly two miles in length. In 1872, the entire east end of the city was swept away by the tidal wave that followed a terrific storm that swept the Gulf coast for three days. Then the eastern land on which buildings stood was literally torn away. The work of replacing it has since been going on, and Fort Point, that guards the entrance to the harbor, has since been built, and on parapets are mounted some of the heaviest coast defense ordnance used by the government. By the force of the storm of 1872 six entire blocks of the city were swept away.

It is on the south side of the city, beginning within 50 yards of the medium Gulf tide, that the wealthy resident portion of the city is located, and which was the first part of Galveston to be stricken by the full force of the recent storm and flood. All of the eastern end of the city must certainly be washed away, and in this quarter, between Broadway and I street, some of the handsomest and most expensive residence establishments are located. There is located there one home which alone cost the owner over $1,000,000. Most of the residences are of frame, but there are many of stone and brick. In the extreme eastern end of the city there are many what we call 'raised cottages.' They are built on piling and stand from eight to ten feet from the ground as a precaution against floods, it being possible for the water to sweep under them.

"The only protection that has ever been provided for the Gulf side of the city has been two stone breakwaters, but many times with ordinary storms, coming in from the Gulf, the high tide water has been hurled over the low stone walls right to the very doors of the residences. From Virginia Point, six miles from Galveston, in ordinary conditions of the atmosphere, the city can be plainly seen. If it is true that Galveston cannot now be seen from the point, then the condition of the people in the city must be indescribably horrible."

Regarding the busines quarters of Galveston, Mr. Clarkson said:

"Many millions of dollars are invested in the wholesale and retail business of the city. On Strand street, there are ten blocks of business establishments that represent an invested capital of $127,000,000. Market street is the heavy retail street and there in the heart of the flooded district, the losses cannot but reach into the millions. The fact, as indicated by dispatches that the water is standing six feet deep in the Tremont Hotel, furnishes startling evidence to me that Galveston has been indeed dreadfully visited. The hotel is in almost the centre of the city. Two years ago Galveston did the heaviest shipping in cotton and grain of any other Southern city. When I was at home two ship-loads of cattle were leaving the port on an average of every week."

VICE PRESIDENT FOR THE STATE ADDRESSES THE PEOPLE.

He Suggests a Plan to Secure For North Carolina an Adequate Representation at the Pan-American Exposition.

The following is the address of the Hon. W. F. Porter to the people of North Carolina:

Having been appointed a vice president for the state of North Carolina to the Pan-American Exposition to be held at Buffalo from May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, I take the liberty of addressing you as my fellow citizens and presenting to you some facts which I conceive to be of vast importance to any good citizen of our beloved state.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that this Exposition will naturally bring together a vast crowd of people from different portions of the world. Inasmuch as our state legislature has not had the opportunity thus far to make the necessary appropriation for a display of our products at this Exposition, and unfortunately for us the regular session of our legislature does not meet until January, 1901, we are fearful that it cannot make a suitable appropriation in time to erect a state building so that we might be enabled to make a proper and creditable exhibit for our state.

A first class exhibit can be made by her people if the proper efforts are put forth. It is proposed that we transfer the North Carolina exhibit at Paris to Buffalo, which will probably be done, but that exhibit will not be sufficient. We want to bring before the people of the north and all the western hemisphere an exhibit that will speak volumes for our state. A suitable display of the products and resources of North Carolina no doubt will be a revelation to the people and will be of great benefit to the Old North State.

There are millions of people without any knowledge of our products and the advantages that we possess. It is not generally known that the tobacco of North Carolina took the first premium at the World's Fair at Vienna, but such is the case. It is not generally known that the minerals of North Carolina are the finest in the world.

We have minerals and precious stones in our state that are not found in any other country on the globe.

We have an untold wealth in mica mines, and we believe we can furnish sufficient mica for the markets of the world for years to come.

Our millions of acres of nearly all kinds of timber are virtually in the virgin forests and untouched. The texture of our cotton can compete with the production of any other southern state.

Our corn, wheat, rye and other productions are as fine and of as good quality as any in the United States.

We desire a good class of immigration, and it is the duty of every good citizen of our state to use every effort in his power to bring about a plan to encourage such immigration, that our state may be developed and improved to such an extent that she may stand at the head of the column of the southern states.

To bring about the results thus set forth, it will be necessary for the people themselves to take hold of the matter. Instead of waiting to see what the legislature may do for the state I, as your vice president and representative, have appealed to the good people of our state to come to the rescue.

I propose in the first place that the citizens of each county in the state call a meeting of her people at the county seat or some other accessible point and organize Pan-American clubs and take subscriptions. We believe at least $20,000 or $25,000 could be raised in this way. We could then erect a building for our state and could have sufficient means to make a creditable display of the products and industries of the state, which would no doubt be the means of bringing millions of capital into our commonwealth.

It is believed that the state legislature would take a broad view of this effort to promote the public welfare and without delay reimburse those who subscribe to this fund.

W. F. PORTER.

Hay Meadow, N. C.

THE STATE'S INDUSTRIES.

A Wonderful Growth Along Many Lines In Twenty Years.

The manufacturing industries of North Carolina until 1880 were limited, but since that time the spindles and looms for the manufacture of cotton and woolen fabrics have been largely increased, tobacco factories have been established and enlarged and the culture of silkworms has occasioned the establishment of a silkmaking industry.

In 1896 the number of cotton mills in the state was 167, looms 25,000 and spindles approximately 1,000,000. Over 15,000 persons were employed in these mills, and the capital invested was over $15,000,000. There was a noteworthy advance during 1899 in cotton manufacturing. New plants put into operation numbered 28 and new spindles 230,168, with an estimated capitalization of $8,000,000.

The tobacco industry has greatly prospered in recent years. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, there were 20 manufacturers of tobacco, 38 of cigars, and the combined output in the calendar year 1898 was 8,482,148 cigars, 20,940,896 pounds of plug tobacco, 12,044 pounds of fine cut, 9,239,870 pounds of smoking and 48,552 pounds of snuff. The tobacco factories in 1898 gave employment to 16,900 men, 9,700 women and 5,000 children.

The increase in the lumber product of 1899 over that of 1898 was estimated at 30 per cent. Eighteen new lumber companies were organized last year, with a total capital of $562,000. Nine furniture factories, with a total capital of $100,000, were also added. In 1897 the output of 323 lumber mills aggregated $4,558,280 for the year.

The fisheries of North Carolina are an important industry. In 1895 the number of men regularly employed in this industry approximated 6,000 and the boats and vessels about 2,500. The value of the products is nearly equally divided between sea and river products. The shad and herring fisheries are the most important of any state, and the greater portion of the catch is made in and about the Albemarle sound. Oysters are abundant, the area of the public grounds exceeding 20,000 acres and the natural beds nearly 5,000 acres. Legislative protection has been thrown around the oyster and fishery interests, and the laws are rigidly enforced.

The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next year will offer to the people of this state an opportunity for showing their resources that will prove of greater value than any exposition has ever before presented. The state is now better than ever prepared to make a great showing, and the wonderful resources of the state can be presented to millions of people who are near to us and more likely to become one of us if properly impressed with the advantages we offer, who could not have been reached through any other exposition.

He Took the Hint.

"It is my aim in life," he said, "to make men happier."

"Why not women?" she asked.—Chicago Post.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina: Fair tonight and Tuesday; light winds, mostly easterly.

Highest temperature for Greensboro for the past twenty-four hours ending eight o'clock this morning 96, lowest 68.

Highest temperature on Saturday last, 95; lowest Saturday night, 67.

AROUND THE TOWN.

Mrs. C. C. Collins, is quite ill at her home on West Market street.

Policeman Merritt today arrested A. W. Patterson, colored, wanted in Chatham county for bastardy.

There will be a very important union meeting of the North and South Greensboro Woman's Christian Temperance Unions in Mrs. Gorrell's parlor tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Solicitor Brooks attended Durham Superior Court last week and prosecuted 99 cases, two of which were for capital offences. In all but three of the cases a verdict of guilty was secured.

Salisbury Sun: Miss Annie Kizer will give up her position with the Salisbury Steam Laundry on September the 25th. She will do so in order to go to the State Normal School at Greensboro.

Mr. Howard B. Sterrett, a well known traveling salesman for a Lynchburg firm, and who has spent much time in Greensboro, has been made assistant buyer for his house. He will be stationed in New York.

Charlotte Observer: Judge and Mrs. Thomas J. Shaw, of Greensboro, are at the Central Hotel. The friends of Judge Shaw will be glad to learn that he is able to be out. He has been quite sick for several weeks.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. B. Frank Mebane is to have a handsome house built at Cooleemee Falls, overlooking the new Cooleemee City. The plans for the new residence are to be drawn by Hook & Sawyer, of this city.

Charlotte News: Miss Dora Bevill, of Greensboro, arrived yesterday. She is one of the new pupils at the Presbyterian College. Miss Bevill was accompanied by her father, Mr. W. E. Bevill, who will remain in Charlotte several days.

In a card in this issue of The Telegram, President Peacock requests all persons, except those on business, to keep off the premises of the Greensboro Female College. This is a reasonable request, and should be respected by the public generally. The property is private and people have no right to trespass on it.

Horse and Buggy Restored to the Owner.

The horse and buggy found on South Buffalo, by Chief Scott and Policeman Whittington, mention of which was made in Saturday's Telegram, proved to be the property of Dr. Neese, of Burlington, as was suspected. His son came up Saturday afternoon and returned with the horse and buggy yesterday.

Lawn Party Tomorrow Night.

The Ladies Aid Society of Centenary Methodist church will give a lawn party at Mrs. J. W. Wooters', on Asheboro street, tomorrow night. The location is a nice one and a pleasant evening is assured all who attend. Pure and delicious refreshments will be served by the young ladies.

A Logical Conclusion.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

A chain is only as strong as its weakest link. By the same reasoning, the value of a system of waterworks should be gauged.

A TAXPAYER.

An Inquiry.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

Will the City Fathers kindly tell the people who elected them, where they propose to get water for use in the plant they contemplate buying for $87,500?

ALL WILL ADVERTISE.

A large Northwestern bank has cut loose from the tradition that enterprise in business is undignified. This institution began by having its address printed on checks, drafts and the like; now it has its ads in the newspapers regularly and finds that they pay. The idea is growing fast that newspaper advertising is a benefit both to the business man and the people. In time every establishment will have its regular space in the newspaper, and the increased business will more than pay the bills.

We acknowledge no competition. The simple plain talk of the mighty dollar together with good value, is our great argument. We have just received a big lot of new fall and winter shoes. Call and see them.

J. M. Hendrix & Co.

For the Boys
